

Apparel Designer

- Global leading brands
- Great team environment
- Lifestyle location

Design style...and lifestyle. That's the unique offering here at Roxy. A design career that will provide you with the kind of challenges that only emerge with a true industry leader - a global organisation that drives the hearts and minds of those aspiring to the boardriding culture. And then there's the unparalleled lifestyle - here in Torquay on Victoria's Surf Coast.

We are seeking a talented Apparel Designer who has a unique combination of a sharp eye for style and an eye on the bigger picture. Your invaluable sense of style will come into play as you blend fashion and form with a passion for quality that matches ours. The person we are looking for will ideally have had 3+ years indicative experience in a women's fashion or accessories design role, and preferably in the active lifestyle area. Your computer skills in the Adobe desktop publishing suite are proven, as is your acumen in balancing design inspiration with commercial reality.

In return for your unique skills and experience, Quiksilver offers a broad competitive package of employee benefits and a unique work environment.

Ready to make your next career step and join a great team? Please send a covering letter and CV to jobs@quiksilver.com.au by no later than Monday 28th December 2009.
